Dr Harper's Horse

THE various diseases to which that noble and useful animal the Horse is subject, have occasioned many remedies to be offered to the public under different forms, with high encomiums, and sanctioned by dignified names, for the cure and preservation of them; some of these are injurious, others at best of little use, and many wholly improper to answer the intention to which they are recommended; a judicious and really useful composition free from those objections, has therefore long been desired by many gentlemen who have valuable horses, and are unwilling to trust them to the care of designing, pretended Farries, or ignorant Hostlers, their wishes are at length fully gratified by Doctor Barber, being prevailed upon to allow his valuable Horse Powder, (which has proved so efficacious in the various diseases) to be prepared in quantities under his immediate inspection and kept in convenient packages with suitable directions It is by him recommended, in the following cases, viz for horses foundered by eating to an excess, or drinking cold water when warm, to such as discover any symptoms of Glanders, the distemper, Coughs and Yellow-Water, or are exposed to infection by being with other horses affected by these complaints, and in all cases attended with feverish symptoms, sluggishness loss of appetite, or depression of their spirits

CHURCHE'S
Anti-Bilious Pills.

AN accumulation and vitiated state of the Bile, during the Summer and Autumnal seasons, having of late become very common in the United States, and justly alarming, as predisposing to Bilious and other Fevers; Jaundice, Bilious colic, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus &c. must render a medicine particularly acceptable that is calculated to correct such a habit of body, and to remove the cause of those complaints; especially if it is at the same time perfectly safe, easy in its operation, and the dose small.

With this view the Anti-bilious Pills prepared by the Subscribers are confidently recommended to persons of bilious habits, especially if inclined to costiveness, or to others when they experience the following symptoms which frequently attend redundancy of Bile, viz. Pain in the head or back, sickness at stomach, chills, a fever, more especially if those symptoms be accompanied by redness, or faint yellowness in the eyes.

WORM TEA.

BEING one of the most valuable Medicines ever sold for the destruction of Worms in the human body, and more particularly adapted for Children, of which complaint, thousands annually fall a sacrifice. It being now so well established that no certificates or encomiums are necessary to recommend it, being altogether a composition of Vegetables; since this medicine was first discovered upwards of one hundred thousand persons have experienced its beneficial effects.

FROM THE CONNECTICUT COURANT.

IT happened about 170 years ago that the English House of Commons, by certain misadventures were thrown into such perplexities and confusion that they knew not how to steer their course, or what measures to propose. The members had sat together, for some time, in sullen silence: When Sir Dudley Carleton, who had been a sea voyage, arose, and spoke as follows:

"I find by a great silence in this house "that it is a fit time to be heard, if you "please to give me the patience. I "may very fitly compare the heaviness "of this house unto some of my misfor-"tunes by sea, in my travels; for as we "were bound unto Marseilles, by over-"sight of the mariners we mistook our "course, and by ill fortune met with a "sand; that was no sooner overpast; but "we fell on another; and having escaped "this likewise, we met with a third, and "in that we stuck fast; all the passengers "being much dismayed by this disaster, "—as now we are here in this house.—I "At last an old experinced mariner, upon "consultation, affirmed, that the speed-"iest way to come out from the sands, "was to know how we came there. So "well looking, and behold the compass "he found, by going in upon such a "point, we were brought into that strait "wherefore we must take a new point to "rectify and bring out of danger."

This story of old Sir Dudley is no less accommodable to certain great folks on this side of the water, than it was at that time to the English Commoners. The government of the United States may be compared to a ship. This political ship for several of the last years, has been among the quicksands, striking now against one sand bank and then against another; and the danger of the wreck and ruin has been and yet is, constantly increasing. In the meantime all is confusion and hubbub aboard,—or rather stupefaction.

Now if the captain and pilots of the political ship would but consider how they came among the dangerous shoals, and retract their course, there would be yet some chance of escape. This ship, whilst Washington commanded her, was the very best sailer in the world, and never once struck or sprung aleak' That illustrious old captain minded well the compass. He kept the ship exactly balanced; her hull clean and tight, and her tackling all in good order; and he seized and improved every favourable gale to cary her forward. But not so Jefferson, Madison & Co. Whilst their negligence occasioned the ship to become intolerable foul, and dangerously leaky; they must needs alter their course. Hence she got among the shoals; where she will be lost inevitably, unless by good hap, there be a change of officers aboard, or unless (what is rather to be desired than hoped) her present steersmen tack about, get out where they came in, and then follow the tract of the first Captain.

To speak plainly, the vexations attending both our foreign relations and our interior naitonal concerns, the loss of countless millions of property, the ruin of trade, the bankruptcies of our merchants and shippers, perplexities at home and disgrace abroad—are allowing, in a great measure to a departure, by our late and present administration, from the wise, honest dignified policy of Washington. That great and good man was truly styled Father of his Country. As well in peace as in war his single object was his country's interest. He had no political party to build up, no sinister ends to answer. He had discernment to know, and virtue and resolution to pursue, the right way. His policy, both foreign & domestic, was impartial, open and honorable. and had his example been followed, all would have been well.

The political mummery of his two last successors, who utterly abandoned the plain and noble path that he had marked out, has occasioned most of the public evils we have cause to apprehend, as well as those we already have felt. Nor shall ever again see good times in this country, til the United States be governed with more wisdom then at present. The people have employed their endeavours to gather "grapes of thorns and figs of thistles," long enough to be satisfied of the futility and folly of the experiment

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

FRIDAY, March 8, 1811.

MARRIED, on Wednesday evening last, by the Rev. John Taylor, MORGAN NEVILLE, Esq. Attorney at Law, to Miss NANCY BARKER, daughter of Jeremiah Barker, Esq. all of this Town.

On the morning of Friday the 1st inst. at half past 10 o'clock, departed this life, Mrs. AGNES IRWIN, at the advanced age of 90 years. Her very numerous offspring and acquaintance have, in her life, an example before them of honest persevering industry, and in the closing scene, that of perfect resignation to the Divine will.

The grand democratic caucus, composed of the members of the legislature, and about 15 persons from the various parts of the state, met at Lancaster on the 18th ult. to determine for the freemen of Pennsylvania, who shall be their next Governor. Simon Snyder had an unanimous vote for that office; so that the people are saved the trouble of attending elections, and the disagreeable task of thinking for themselves.

The bill for granting a charter to the Mechanic's bank of Philadelphia, has been negatived in the House of Representatives of this state, by a majority of twelve or fourteen votes.

This is the bank that proposed to build a bridge over the river Susquehanna at Columbia.

The new state, hitherto the Orleans territory, we understand is to be called the state of Jefferson.

From a gentleman who left Mobile on Tuesday the 15th inst. says the Louisiana Gazette of the 23d of January, we have received the following information:

Colonel Cushing obtained liberty from the Spanish commandant, to bring his family ashore from the gun-boats that lay at anchor some distance from the fort, and has taken a house in the village.—Captain Gaines, with his company, lies encamped close by the village—the Spanish patroles pass round his camp and through the adjacent country. The militia from Washington county, ordered down by Lieut. Col. Sparks, was discharged and sent home by Col. Cushing. The Spaniards will not give up the fort. Col. Cushing has no orders to take it.—Spanish law governs. Reciprocity and an interchange of friendly acts are daily experienced between the Spanish and American officers. These are the beautiful effects of national philosophy.

According to Thomas' History of Printing, there are now published in the U. States and their territories, above 350 different newspapers!

From a source the most respectable we are informed, that Mr. Morier, British Charge des Affaires, has made known to our government, that the official information (made public) from Mr. Russel, that the French decrees are not revoked, will be fully credited by the British government, and that they will be compelled to consider a continuance of non-intercourse against them exclusively, as a measure of hostility, demanding immediate steps to meet it.—Balt. Fed. Gaz.

The Louisiana Gazette of the 6th of February, says, "We are authorised to state that Col. Cushing, with the whole of the United States troops, are ordered to quit Mobile and ascend the river to Fort Stoddert. This gives Gov. Folch complete controul of that district, and should he receive the reinforcements that he contemplates, he can soon extend his powers to their original limits.

This appears to be the age of wonders! But we think nothing more strange has started up in these latter days, than a child (ZERA COLBURN) about six years and an half old, who intuitively is a mathematician of no inferior degree—he solves, without hesitation, the most abstruse questions in arithmetic, taking more or less time, as they are more or less intricate, and this by the mere force of his mind, as he is unacquainted with letters, or the use of the pen. He has excited so much interest, that several gentlemen have offered his father $2500, and engaged to raise as much more, to place him in a respectable seminary; but strange to tell, he has refused this liberal offer, and prefers exhibiting him indiscriminately—however, such is the respectability of the gentlemen who have taken an interest in this prodigy of a child, viz: Messrs. Quincy, Randolph and Clay, of the house of Representatives of the United States, that a hope is entertained he may be brought to comply. Among many questions put to him, we shall select one which was answered with promptitude, namely—

Q. Suppose there is an orchard in which there are 76 trees, and there are 7 pens under each tree, and 5 pigs in each pen, how many pigs will there be in all.

A. 2660.

From the National Intelligencer, Feb. 21.

The question on the renewal of the charter of the Bank of the United States, is at length decided in the Senate of the United States. The yeas and nays were as follows:—

Yeas.—Messrs. Anderson, Campbell, Clay, Cutts, Franklin, Gaillard, German, Giles, Gregg, Lambert, Leib, Matthewson, Reed, Robinson, Smith, (Md) Whiteside, Worthington.—17.

Nays.—Bayard, Bradley, Brent, Champlin, Condit, Crawford, Dana, Gilman, Goodrich, Horsey, Lloyd, Pope, Pickering, Smith, (N. York) Tait, Taylor, Turner.—17.

The Senate being equally divided, the Vice-President decided the question in the affirmative. The first section of the bill was therefore stricken out.

PROPHECY.

The following observations from the pen of General Dumourier, in the year 1794, shews the prophetic powers of a man of a strong discriminating mind, "A King they will have, whatever he may be." A king they have got, and such a king will Jacobinism always produce.

"Is it possible to believe that a republic, founded on such an outrage of justice and humanity, can either last or prosper? Doubtless, it cannot. The monsters have killed Louis XVI. but they have restored the king. A king they will have, whatever he may be; and this same nation, inconstant, changeable, without any controul over its passions, will deliver up, or massacre with their own hands, all these unjust judges, and all the furious jacobites; and, passing from one extreme to another, will adore new kings. All the exertions that have been made for three years, in favor of Rational liberty, will perish; and France will exhibit a monarchy, loaded with crimes and ignominy, dismembered and ruined, under which the most rigorous despotism must have many a tedious conflict with destructive anarchy, before it can establish the reign of laws, not dictated by the people. All of this generation, even those but newly born, will undergo the punishment of the crimes, which these four years of the French annals present to view; crimes so attrocious that posterity will hardly believe them."

WHAT IS DEMOCRACY?

Out of the destruction of the United States bank, will grow up some dozen of state banks—this is DEMOCRACY. The very democrats, who voted the destruction of the United States bank, were in favor of the establishment of two or three new BANKS, within the ten miles square, over which they legislate. This is—DEMOCRACY. The legislature of Virginia, and several other state legislstures, who directed and requested their Senators and Representatives to vote against the renewal of the United States bank charter, in the same breath recommend the establishment of state banks—This is—DEMOCRACY.

The legislature of Kentucky, with the most perfect ignorance of the subject in all its operations, and effects—voted instructions against the renewal of the U. States bank charter. This is—DEMOCRACY.

What else it is, may be seen, by retracing the history of its transactions since the 3d of March, 1801.

"THE ECONOMY OF HUMAN LIFE."

CHARITY.

HAPPY is the man who hath sown in his breast the seeds of benevolence; the produce thereof shall be charity and love.

From the fountain of his heart shall rise rivers of goodness; and the streams shall overflow for the benefit of mankind.

He assisteth the poor in their trouble; he rejoiceth in furthering the prosperity of all men.

He censureth not his neighbour; he believeth not the tales of envy and malevolence; neither repeateth he their slanders.

He forgiveth the injuries of men—he wipeth them from his remembrance; revenge and malice has no place in his heart.

For evil he returneth not evil; he hateth not even his enemies, but requiteth their injustice with friendly admonition.

The grief and anxieties of men excite his compassion; he endeavoureth to alleviate the weight of their misfortunes, and the pleasure of success rewardeth his labour.

He calmeth the fury, he healeth the quarrels of angry men, and preventeth the mischiefs of strife and animosity.

He promoteth in his neighbourhood peace and good will, and his name is repeated with praise and benedictions.

ANECDOTE OF MR. WHITFIELD.

An intimate friend of the celebrated Hume asked him what he thought of Mr. Whitfield's preaching: for he had listened to the latter part of one of his sermons at Edinburgh; "He is sir," said Mr. Hume, "the most ingenious preacher I ever heard; it is worth while to go 20 miles to hear him." He then repeated a passage towards the close of his discourse which he had heard—"After a solemn pause he thus addressed his numerous audience; The attendant angel is just about to leave the threshold, and ascend to heaven. And shall he ascend and not bear the news of one sinner, among all this multitude, reclaimed from the errors of his ways?" To give the greater effect to his exclamation, he stamped with his foot, lifting up his hands and eyes to heaven, and with gushing tears, cried aloud—"Stop Gabriel! stop Gabriel! stop ere you enter the sacred portals and yet carry with you the news of one sinner converted unto God." He then in the most simple, but energetic language, described what he called a Saviour's dying love to men! so that almost the whole assembly melted into tears. This address was accompanied with such animated yet natural action, that it surpassed any thing ever saw or heard in any other preacher.

NEW-ORLEANS, January 15.

We are happy to congratulate our fellow citizens on the total annihilation of the late daring and bloody insurrection. The brigands are now completely in our power with the exception of a few fugi- concealment; their number, however is far from being formidable. What a solemn warning should this unfortunate catastrophe be to us—from the chief magistrate down to the humble cottager! Let us now inquire into our former shameful negligence—let us not now ask why was not our militia in a proper state of organization—let us not now ask (altho' such demand would not be impertinent) how many real musters we have had in this territory during the last 7 years—but rather let these criminal defects, this dangerous and alarming negligence be immediately atoned for by a prompt and speedy organization of the militia—let monthly musters and trainings restore general confidence, and show those who would wish to emigrate to our territorry that we are prepared for every exigency from within and without; let us for our mutual safety and repose, lay aside that party whining which has so long and so completely paralized many of the best hearts and soundest heads amongst us, and be once more unanimous. Had a citizen of any of the Atlantic cities or sea-port towns, where discipline and good order is rigidly and impartially exacted been present to witness the confused consternation and apparent dismay which was but too evident here on the 9th inst. he would have said in the bitterness of his soul "alas my country, are such men as these thy only vigils in a corner the most vulnerable of any in the whole Union?"—he would have rated our thanksgiving paragraphs to the executive as a direct confidence of servile fear, or at best but as that commisserating sentiment which virtuous men are apt to entertain of a dying profligate, who, finding himself about to be hurried from the theatre of his vileness and dissipation, humbly beseeches the mediation and succour of divine aid.

An accurate enumeration of the negroes killed and missing, in the late insurrection, from Mr. Fortier's to Mr. Andry's, is as follows:

Killed and executed,	66
Missing,	16
Sent to New-Orleans for trial,	17
	99

From this statement the loss is not so great as was at first calculated. Those reported missing are supposed generally to be dead in the woods, as many bodies have been seen by the patrole.

ALEXANDRIA, February 19.

It is ascertained, beyond any doubt that the new French minister brings not a syllable from the court of St. Cloud, relative to the Berlin and Milan decrees. Despatches have been received from Mr Russell, but whether important is not known. The course to be pursued then is plain. Either the President must issue his proclamation, or Congress must repeal the law of May last—one of these will instantly be done.

PHILADELPHIA, February 23.

Captain Lincoln left Lisbon on the 28th of December. No military operations had taken place for some time previous, except an abortive attempt of the French to get possession of Coimbra and Oporto. General Massena remained in the position to which he retreated in November—Lord Wellington's army was in front of them.

BIRTH DAY OF THE IMMORTAL WASHINGTON.

Friday last being the anniversary of the natal day of the great, beloved, and revered FATHER OF HIS COUNTRY, it was celebrated in this city with the most enthusiastic devotion, and although the weather was unfavorable to the full display of Military exercises, many of the uniformed troops and companies of volunteer cavalry and infantry disregarding the severity of an incessant snow storm, assembled on their respective parades to honor the memory of the Immortal HERO and STATESMAN, whose valor achieved the independence of the nation, and whose councils established a system of wise and dignified policy, promotive in the highest degree of her honor and happiness—an observance of which by his successors would have perpetuated her freedom and prosperity.

Among those who partook of the gratifications of the Day, the Society of the SONS OF WASHINGTON, honored with the presence of several distinguished fellow citizens, sat down to a sumptuous entertainment, prepared with great elegance & profusion, by Mr. Renshaw, of the Mansion House Hotel. The room was brilliantly decorated with appropriate transparencies; and, in the evening, a full length resemblance (in transparency) of their ever-to-be-lamented Father, was of Membership, which [illegible] The Badge ed on the breast, consisted of an excellent minature likeness of WASHINGTON, set in gold accompanied with suitable inscriptions. A full band of music in the adjoining room, contributed greatly to the pleasures and hilarity of the Day.

After the cloth had been removed, the President, all the company rising with him, addressed the Society in the following words:

"GENTLEMEN,

"I DO not rise to pronounce the eulogy of WASHINGTON—not because his praises can ever be unwelcome to your ears, nor because eloquence has exhausted the mighty theme; but because the returning anniversary of this auspicious Day fills every mind with recollections that supply the place of all eulogy

To keep alive these recollections—to commemorate the consummate wisdom, virtue, and valor, towhich under God we owe the privilege of this day hailing each other as Citizens of a Free Republic, has this institution been founded.

Divested of every feeling but that of patriotism, burning with zeal for our country's happiness and glory, we claim here no political distinction but what our name imports:—we avow no political creed but devotion to the maxims of our beloved and lamented Father.

No monumental trophies as yet adorn his grave, but until a nations gratitude shall be evinced, by a structure worthy of the dear remains it shall enshroud, be it ours, to erect in every heart a monument of affection, sacred and enduring as the most pious respect of filial duty, the warmest emotions of filial love, ever reared to the memory of a lost and honored parent.

Unceasingly contemplating his talents his virtues, his exploits, his counsels, on the annual recurrence of this enlivening festival, your feelings will require no prompter Every enjoyment you possess, every endearing object of regard around you, will rise into view and find its value enhanced by the consideration of its having been purchased by the toils of WASHINGTON. You will require not so much to be reminded of your amazing debt of gratitude, as to have its pressure relieved, by withdrawing your attention for a time from the mighty whole, to the more limited view of some one of the many noble incidents in the Hero's life, sufficient to engross the reflections of the day.

We have in this respect, on the present occasion, anticipated your desires, by the exhibition of a memorial indicative of one of the brightest omens of our country's independence.*

Many anxious gloomy days preceded that which was illumined by the glorious achievement of our Washington on the plains of Trenton. The remnant of a small, dissatisfied, ill provided army, in the depth of a rigorous winter, pursued by an enemy superior in numbers and better skilled in the tactics, and inured to the hardships of war, was transformed, by the wonder working genius of Washington, into vigorous and successful assailants of the enemy from whom they seemed retreating in dismay. Amidst fields of ice, and the raging fury of the elements, rendered still more terrible by the blackness of night, a handful of undisciplined troops is conveyed across the tumultuous waves of the Delaware, and led to immediate victory and conquest.

It is difficult to say whether the constituted rulers and people of our land were most transported, or the experienced commanders of a veteran opposing army most appalled, by this unlooked for event. It was truly an enterprise planned in consummate wisdom, executed with dauntless bravery, and, under the auspices of the god of armies, crowned with complete success.

From that moment the independence previously declared was firmly established. A destructive langour and despondency vanished. The republic was roused to the recollection that she had a righteous cause with a Washington to maintain it. The proud hosts of the invader were thunderstruck at an effort of which they thought American troops incapable.

Fresh achievements, blending all the management and foresight of prudence, with the boldness of daring adventure, immediately followed, and whatever obstacles afterwards occured they were met with equanimity and firmness, and surmounted with comparative promptitude and ease. The glorious day we have applauded, had fixed the destiny of this great confederacy, and placed its people beyond the reach of despotic rule.

"Here dawn'd the day star of Columbia's fame,
Here herald glory first emblaz'd her name.
On Trenton's plains her base of empire stands,
The work of WASHINGTON'S immortal hands."

* At this part of the address, the curtain in the eastern end of the room was withdrawn, and the company were presented with a brilliant transparent view of the ever memorable battle of Trenton.

THE LATE QUEEN OF HOLLAND.

Copies of a very severe but feeling letter, written by this lady to Bonaparte, are stated to be circulated at Paris, by the partizans of Josephine. They report that in the year 1800, she sacrificed her innocence to his incestuous lust, upon condition that all ideas of a divorce from her mother should be laid aside, and that she was pregnant by Napoleon when she was married to his Brother. The letter is in 7 pages close writing. We have only room for the following extract:

'My sin' she writes 'fall on your culpable head! Your threats and sedution and my Mother's tears made me a criminal before I knew what guilt was. Take back your blood-stained sceptres, you ruined kingdoms, and restore me if you can, the innocence of which you have robbed me. Nothing proves more the inefficacy of your power, than your inability to render me my lost virtue! Your sovereignties—your diadems—are the wages of infamy, of prostitution. Then increase the reproaches of my guilty conscience. It is not hardened like yours. It dreads but it believes, in a remunerator hereafter. It implores his forgiveness, and prays for your repentance. I pity, but I do not envy, the unfortunate princess exposed to your poisonous embraces. Your treatment I am certain, will soon send her to a convent, to a mad house, or to a grave. I mourn my mother's disgrace, because she has not religion enough to support it with resignation, or philosophy enough to despise it with dignity. Again what are the empires of the world to the peace of mind? When it is gone, splendor and grandeur are only brilliant misery. You, you, the sole cause of all my wretchedness; you have shut the gates of Paris, of my native city, against me. Thank God! You cannot dispose of Heaven! The most repentant of sinners, I trust, will find them open for her reception—She summonses her destroyer before the throne of an ALMIGHTY CREATOR! Yes! yes! before TWELVE MONTHS you shall appear in the presence of the Judge of Heaven and Earth, to render an account for a fortune you have horribly abused—for the victims you so cruelly have slain—and for the nations you so mercilessly have oppressed and ruined. Tremble wretch! your punishment will surpass your prosperity!!'

T. W. DYOTT, M. D.

Dr. Robertson's
INFALLIBLE
Worm Destroying Lozenges,
A Medicine highly necessary to be kept in all Families.

Worms which affect the human body are chiefly of three kinds, viz. Taenia or tape worm, the Teres, or round and long worm, and the Ascarides, or round and short worm. There are many kinds of worms found in the human body, but they proceed in a great measure, from similar causes, have nearly the same symptoms, and require the same method of treatment as those already mentioned.

The Tape worm is white; very long and full of joints, it is generally bred in the stomach or small intestines. The round and long worm is likewise bred in the small intestines, and sometimes in the stomach. The round and short worm commonly lodge in the rectum, or what is called the end intestines, and occasion a disagreeable itching about the seat.

The long round worms have been known to perforate the intestines, and get into the cavity of the belly, the effects of the tape worm are nearly the same with those of the long and round, but rather more violent.

SYMPTOMS.

The common symptoms of Worms are, paleness of the countenance, at other times, flushing of the face, itching of the nose, and about the seat; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; swelling of the upper lip, the appetite sometimes bad, at other times very voracious; looseness; disagreeable breath; a hard swelled belly; great thirst; the urine frothy; and sometimes of a whitish color; griping or cholic pains; an unvoluntary discharge of saliva especially when asleep; frequent pains in the side, with a dry cough, and unequal pulse; palpitations of the heart, swoonings; cold sweats; palsy; epeleptic fits, etc.

Though numberless medicines are extolled for expelling and killing worms, none are equal in efficacy to Dr. Robertson's Worm Destroying Lozenges, they are mild in their opperation and may be given to the youngest infant with safety.

The above Lozenges are for Sale by
J. P. & J. W. SKELTON,

TAKE NOTICE,

T. W. DYOTT, M. D.

Dr. Dyott's
ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS,
For the Prevention and Cure of Bilious and Malignant Fevers.

The numerous cures performed by the above Pills, have induced the inventor at the solicitation of many respectable citizens who have experienced their beneficial and salutary effects, to make them publickly known for the benefit of mankind in general.

They are principally composed of vegetable gums and roots, in whose balsamic medical qualities, their excellence consists, without the falacious aid of those mineral snbstances, too often destructive to the animal coustitution.

These Pills if timely administered, will remove the causes which commonly produce Yellow Fevers, Bilious-Fevers, Ague and Fever, Cholic, Pains, Flatulencies, Indigestion, Costiveness, Hipochondral and Hysteric complaints, Stranguary, Gravil, Rheumatism and Gout

They are peculiarly serviceable in Female Disorders, and especially in the removal of those obstructions which are the great source of their complaints at certain periods, they possess this eminent advantage over most other purgatives, that while they operate gently, they produce neither costiveness, Debility nor too great excitement, whenever there is a predisposition to a disease arising from marsh effluvia, a too copious use of ardent spirits or a vitiated state of the bile, they are sure to relieve.

They are highly recommended to travellers by sea and land, as they may be made use of with the utmost safety, without change of diet or exercise. They will be found peculiarly beneficial in the prevention of disorders incidental to hot climates, they deterge and cleanse vicid humour open obstructions and promote the secretion of good bile, operating as an easay cathartic, as a powerful diuretic and diaphoretic.

The above Pills are for Sale by
J. P. & J. W. SKELTON,
DRUGGISTS.
(Price 25 cents per Box large do. 50 cents.)

TAKE NOTICE.

That each Box of the above Genuine Pills are signed on the outside cover with the signature of the sole proprietor.

T. W. DYOTTT, M. D.

Dr. Dyott's
PATENT ITCH OINTMENT.

For plesantness, safety, expedition, ease and certainty, is infinitely superior to any other medicine for the cure of that most disagreeable and tormenting disorder THEITCH.

This disease is most commonly communicated by infection, it generally appears in form of small watery pusties, first about the wrists, or between the fingers, afterwards it affects the arms, legs, &c. These pustles are attended with an intolerable itching, especially when the patient is warm in bed or sits by the fire, sometimes indeed the skin is covered with large blotches or scabs, and at other times with a white scruff, or scaly eruption, this last is called the Dry Itch, and is the moct difficult to cure.

The above ointment is so certain in its operation, that it has never failed in any one instance whatever of effectually curing that disorder though applied to many thousands.

The above Ointment is for Sale by
J. P. & J. W. SKELTON,
DRUGGISTS.
(Price 50 cents per Box.)

TAKE NOTICE.

That each box of the above genuine Ointment is signed on the outside cover with the Signature of the sole proprietor.

Also for Sale.

LOTS in the town of SHENANGO.—This town is laid out in the big bend of Shenango river, near the centre of Mercer county, and about 55 miles north-west from Pittsburgh. It possesses many advantages well calculated to render the Lots valuable. The situation and plan of the town are handsome—a navigable water passes through it, as also does the main road from Pittsburgh, by way of Mercer, to New-Connecticut, in the state of Ohio. It is surrounded by a delightful country—fertile, well watered and healthy—lies nearly central between Lake Erie and the Ohio river, in the route intended by nature to connect the interests of those waters—indeed it must become the concentrating point of trade between them. From the many advantages it combines it must unquestionably become a place of considera ble trade. A number of Lots being already disposed of, improvements will be immediately commenced, and will be very much promoted in their progress, by the Legislature having passed a law appropriating a sum of money for building a bridge over the Shenango, in the town, which, in all probability, will be compieted this season.

Likewise for Sale,

A VALUABLE SEAT FOR MILLS, on the Lachawanick, near its mouth, and within a few perches of the town of Shenango, together with any quantity of land adjoining, from 50 to 200 acres. A Saw-mill would find full employ immediately, and a Grist-mill by the time it can be erected. All the sawing necessary for the improvement of the town may be done there; and rafts of timber, descending the Shenango, canbe floated up the Lachawanick to the mill, without difficulty, as it will stand but a few perches from its mouth.

The above Lands and Lots will be sold cheap, for cash or good payments, and indisputable titles given. Application to be made to the subscriber, at No. 253, Arch-street, Philadelphia.

May 1810. JOSEPH MORRISON,

N. B. A plan of the Town may be seen at Mr. Robert Spencer's, Pittsburgh; Mr. William M'Millan's, Mercer; and at the subscriber's, Philadelphia.
